Three local races get county's attention

Candidates working hard in final days

With Election Day only days away, three local races are generating the most interest. These are the ones for county attorney, judge/executive and mayor of Warsaw.

The county attorney race between Democrat incumbent John "Spike" Wright and Republican challenger Grant Axon has been the most hotly contested.

Wright, whose father, John Wright, was also county attorney here, is running for his fourth term in office. Axon is waging his first campaign and began seeking support from the voters at the beginning of the year. Neither man was challenged in the May Primary.

Both have been aggressively seeking support in recent weeks with advertisements, signs and door-to-door visits. No one would be surprised if the outcome is close.

The race for county judge/executive between Republican incumbent Ken McFarland and Democrat Tyler Boaz, a Warsaw city councilman, could also be close. This is McFarland's first term as judge/executive. He was formerly a fiscal court magistrate from the Sparta/Veterans Memorial District for two terms. Boaz is currently a Warsaw city councilman and has been active in local politics for several years.

Each man has said he respects his opponent and has run a clean, attack-free campaign.

Because current mayor Charlie French is stepping down, Warsaw will have a new mayor next year. Three candidates hope to succeed him including current councilmen Keith Jones, former councilman Nelson Brown and Damon Lewis. All men have been working hard to win over the voters.

Jones and Brown are well known to voters and have had great success in local politics over the years. Jones has been a councilman for several terms and was the top vote getter among the six council members in the last election. He's also Warsaw's vice mayor.

Brown comes from a large family and has been elected to several local offices in past including sheriff, jailer and Warsaw city councilman.

Most feel Jones and Brown are the front-runners but Lewis hopes to upset the favorites.

Warsaw City Council
Warsaw Council will look much different next year with 11 candidates in the race for six seats. With Jones running for mayor and councilman Tyler Boaz running for judge/executive, only four incumbents are hoping to win another two-year term in office. They are: Randy Jones, Jerry Hunt, Gary Thompson and Jamie Gould.

The other seven candidates in the race are: Larry Bickers, Lane Hawkins, Ethan Moore, Beth Oldendick, Dustin McEntire, Connely Green and Mary Jane McCarty. Many think several new faces will be on council next year.

Other County Races

•Sheriff Josh Neale, who won a hotly contested race against Deputy Sheriff Ryan Morris in the Democratic primary, also has competition this fall. Political newcomer Melville Gene Carr, a Republican, is challenging Neale.

•There's a race for coroner on the ballot between winners of the Democratic and Republican primaries last May. Former coroner Denny French, a Democrat, and Republican Sue Le-

Sonja Hopkins accused of theft

Sparta treasurer and well-known accountant Sonja Hopkins has been indicted for Abuse of Public Trust. She is charged with allegedly taking $21,063.63 in public money from Sparta and using it for her own benefit.

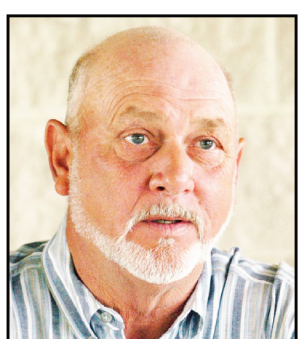

Hopkins, who is represented by Warsaw attorney Steve Huddleston, has pled not guilty to the charge. If she is convicted of the Class C felony, she could receive a sentence of 5 to 10 years in prison. She has a pre-trial hearing scheduled for Dec. 15.

Besides working for the City of Sparta, Hopkins has served as accountant for several local businesses, individuals and community organizations.

Warsaw will get new urgent care facility

There will soon be another option in Gallatin County for those seeking medical treatment.

Judge/executive Ken McFarland announced Monday an agreement has been reached with Carroll County Hospital to open a doctors' office/urgent care center on Franklin Street in Warsaw next to Beringer Drug Center.

"This is something Carroll County's Judge/executive (Harold "Shorty" Tomlinson) and I have been working on for several months," said McFarland. "This is good news because it will give our residents more access to skilled health care. It will also give our EMS people a place to evaluate the patients they are called to help."

Patients at the facility will be accepted by appointment or by walk-in.

The new medical building should be open in late winter or possibly early spring.

Facing the agony that heroin brings

By Kathleen Niece News Reporter

It was an emotional night for those who attended the Champions for a Drug Free Gallatin County meeting at the Extension Office on October 21. More than 80 people came to listen and share stories of how drugs had damaged their lives.

Those speaking were Sheriff Josh Neale, County Attorney John Wright, Boone County Commonwealth Attorney, Assistant Commonwealth Attorney Kurt Kurthefor, Jailer Jerry Webb, Funeral Director Mike McDonald, minister Bob Hightchew, and Randall Beach.

Wright and Kurthefor spoke about the laws in Kentucky for prosecuting drug crimes and how they can't solve the drug problem. They said there's a need for more drug treatment centers, crisis centers and mental health centers to deal with this problem.

They reported that jail does little to deter drug use because prisoners are able to find drugs even while in prison.

Kurthefor said that most of the heroin is brought in from Ohio and Indiana where it's cheaper to buy. In the past three years heroin has become a terrible problem in Gallatin County.

Sheriff Neale told the crowd Gallatin County is in crisis over the growing problem with heroin and also prescription drugs. He encouraged parents to make sure prescription medications are kept where no one else can find them. Prescription opiates can ruin lives and frequently serve as "gateway drugs" to heroin.

Heroin arrests in 2012 were 3.35 people per 10,000 residents. The National Center for Health claims that opiates such as hydrocodone and oxycodone are as likely as heroin to lead to overdose deaths. Jailer Jerry Webb was almost in tears as he addressed the crowd about his experience with a family member who has a drug problem. Webb said drug addiction hurts not only addicts, but also the members of their families as they struggle to understand and help.

Randall Beach talked about his problems with drugs and alcohol and how he didn't admit it was a problem until hitting rock bottom. He said "getting clean" was the hardest thing he's ever done and praised God for not giving up on him. He also said "detox drugs" such as methadone, buprenorphine, and naltrexone rarely work because addicts often sell or trade them for heroin or other opiates.

Mike McDonald said it saddens him to know how many funerals he's performed because of drug problems in Gallatin County.

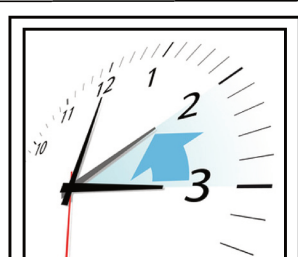

Heroin overdose cases are frequent at St. Elizabeth hospitals with deaths increasing by 77 percent in 2012.

The rising overdose and death rates aren't just due to heroin. A new drug called fentanyl has also become popular. It's 80 to 100 times more potent than morphine, and a tiny amount of it boosts heroin potency with deadly consequences.

Among the answers for Gallatin County's drug problem are par-

This and That

By Kelley Warnick Editor

I'm glad Warsaw has a loud noon siren. Without it, I might still be stuck in the middle of a horrible Halloween dream.

It started off so innocently. I had an hour to kill before lunch. I leaned back in my comfortable office chair, put my hands behind my head, closed my eyes and in no time, I was fast asleep and in the middle of a dream I'll never forget.

It was Halloween night and I was ready to hit the streets except for one thing, my costume. It wasn't that I didn't have one. I had an entire closet full of the finest costumes ever assembled.

My Halloween nightmare

After looking through my options, I decided to slip into the Barack Obama attire hanging on the left side of the rack. After putting on the mask with the big smile, I pulled out a wig and basketball shorts. I was ready to ring some doorbells.

I walked out the front door but was quickly stopped by a big crowd on the street. "You can't go out dressed like that!" they said. "Obama offends conservatives and they'll picket if you dress up like him. It'll ruin everyone's night. You have to change."

I rushed back to my closet. This time, I decided to go Hollywood and picked the Groucho Marx mask. In seconds I was ready for some fun, but again I didn't get far.

"Wait just a minute pal!" a policeman said. "You can't walk around here smoking that cigar. Can't you see there are innocent people everywhere? Your second-hand smoke is a health hazard. Get off the streets."

I headed back to the closet for another option. Politicians were out, so were smokers so that left animals. I picked a cute looking owl suit and figured I'd soon be rolling in Tootsie Rolls.

Again, I made a mistake. A group of big, burly men with plaid shirts and chain saws descended on me. "Look!" one of them said. "It's an owl. Owls live in trees and we can't touch their trees. If the trees can't be cut, then we can't pay our bills. Let's take care of this puny owl before it takes care of us."

I heard the roar of the chain saws fade as I peeled off my feathers. Crunch time was at hand. Halloween evening was wearing on and I hadn't even smelled a treat yet. There were still plenty of costumes from which to choose, however, and I wasn't ready to surrender.

After giving the inventory a quick once over, I came across a good one. I figured everyone loved baseball players so I pulled on a Cincinnati Reds uniform and hit the streets, knowing I finally had the perfect Halloween outfit.

I hung an outfielder's glove over a bat, pulled down my cap and opened the door.

"You're greedy!" the fans yelled. "Why do you need all that money and why can't you win the World Series? You should try working for a living, you bum!"

What was I to do? I couldn't give up on my favorite holiday. I thought back to the costumes I wore as a child. The Caveman was too chauvinistic. The Indian Chief showed disrespect. Al Capone was too ethnic, Jesse James too violent and of course, the Indonesian Headhunter was too much of everything.

I began to panic just when the noon whistle brought me back to reality and I awoke just in time. I only had one costume left and it would be hard for me to face my pool-playing buddies if I had spent Halloween dressed up like Dolly Parton.

Our readers write

Spike Wright for County Attorney

Dear Editor:

It is with honor, respect, and dignity that I support John (Spike) Wright for the office of Gallatin County Attorney. As a life-long resident and citizen of our community, "Spike" has dedicated his life to making Gallatin County a better place for all of us. His 12 years of experience as our county attorney cannot be surpassed and he is no doubt the best candidate for the office. Most of all, Mr. Wright is a quality person with integrity, morals and values. He is ethical.

As the recently retired superintendent of the Gallatin County schools, I have seen first-hand Mr. Wright's involvement with our children and families as he has assisted in truancy, neglect, homelessness, beyond control, criminal violations, et., all while actively supporting our schools through his involvement with our academic and extra-curricular programs. He is visible and accessible.

Gallatin County is a better place because of John "Spike" Wright's service. He is honest, hard-working, and he cares about our future. This election day, I encourage all Gallatin County citizens to re-elect John (Spike) Wright as our Gallatin County Attorney.

Sincerely,
Dot Perkins

Grant Axon for County Attorney

Dear Editor:

After reading a letter from Mr. Grant Axon, I believe he is driven by his compassion for our county, and he possesses the passion and intent to make our county a better place to live by addressing the issues that desire much attention.

Changes are not always easy but they are often positive something I believe should happen.

When I chose to reside here seven years ago, this county was labeled "desperate". In the years to come, I look forward to that changing.

Thank you, Mr. Axon, for reaching out to folks like myself. I will be reaching out for you on November 4.

Sincerely,
Kathryn Taylor

Kentucky Commentary

Will Republicans take control of the House?

Sen. Mitch McConnell still has a chance of being ousted on November 4, but even if he wins a sixth term and becomes the second Kentuckian to lead a Senate majority, that might not be the day's most historic development for our commonwealth.

Republicans are breathing down Democrats' necks in races for control of the state House of Representatives. If they gain a majority on November 4, or later through one or more Democrats switching parties, many things will change in this state.

For example: Women wanting abortions will face new obstacles and so could malpractice lawsuits.

An anti-union "right to work" law will go onto the statute books. Some type of charter schools will probably become a reality. The commonwealth's embrace of Obamacare may be loosened. Real tax reform may finally pass, in a fashion friendly to business but likely jeopardizing state services.

Republican Sen. Rand Paul will probably get the green light to run for president and re-election at the same time. Democratic Gov. Steve Beshear will be one of the lamest ducks in his last year in office because the Republican majorities in both chambers could override his vetoes on their own and start a continuing inquisition of his administration.

The latest Gallup Poll of party identification, found that 45 percent of Kentuckians identify with the Republican Party and only 39 percent identify with the Democratic Party. That's the largest advantage I can recall for Republicans.

Telling a survey interviewer is one thing, and going to the polls to cast a vote is another.

Republicans are trying to convert those GOP-friendly feelings into action with a strong television campaign that reminds viewers how long Democrats have run the House and that their party "isn't your grandfather's Democratic Party," as images of Franklin D. Roosevelt and John F. Kennedy are replaced by those of Obama and Democratic congressional leaders Nancy Pelosi and Harry Reid.

The latter half of the 60-second spots are used to promote specific Republican candidates whose campaigns have paid for the ads I've seen.

House Democratic leaders are clearly worried, and Lou Jacobson of Governing magazine now rates the contest for control of the State House a toss up.

A Republican victory would largely complete the Republicanization of the South that began with passage of the 1964 Civil Rights Act and accelerated with Richard Nixon's "Southern Strategy" in 1968.

The Kentucky House is the last legislative chamber in the South controlled by Democrats, unless you count West Virginia (which you shouldn't; it seceded from the South).

In 2003, Kentucky elected a Republican governor, Ernie Fletcher, who probably would have been re-elected if he hadn't mishandled a personnel scandal and been prosecuted by Democrat Greg Stumbo, who had been elected attorney general partly because Republicans failed to recruit a strong candidate for the office. Now he's speaker of the House, but maybe not for long.

A House GOP majority, in combination with the Senate would be able to vex and stymie Beshear in his last year of office and set the stage for a Republican to succeed him next fall. But it could also go too far, as GOP majorities in Washington have sometimes done, and House Minority Leader Jeff Hoover could have a tiger by the tail if he becomes speaker.

Cats beat Rebels to earn playoff berth

Brown breaks rushing record

Mark Gray
Sports Reporter

The Gallatin County football team clinched a playoff berth Friday with a big win over host Owen County.

Coach Tim Browning's squad will travel to Newport on Friday, November 7, for an opening round matchup.

Gallatin had the lone score in the first quarter when Chris Brown ran it in for a touchdown from 20 yards out. Quarterback Trent Brock ran in the two-point conversion for an 8-0 lead.

After the Rebels pulled to within 8-6 early in the second quarter, Brown scored ran in another, this time from five yards out, with 9:19 left to give the Cats a 14-6 lead.

Owen responded, however, and tied the score at 14 with eight seconds remaining in the second quarter.

In the third, Gallatin fans enjoyed touchdown runs from Noah Hanson (45 yards) and Brown (3 yards) to grab a 26-14 lead.

With 1:26 remaining in the third, the Rebels countered with their own touchdown to pull to within 26-20.

In the final quarter, the Wildcats used the combination of Hanson and Brown to put the contest away.

Hanson scored from 11 yards, then ran the conversion in for a 34-20 advantage with 11:17 remaining.

With 6:33 to go, Brown scored for the fourth time, this time on a 20-yard run for a 40-20 lead.

The Rebels added a touchdown in the final minutes to make the final score 40-26.

Brown rushed 25 times for 223 yards and four touchdowns. He also became the school's all time leading rusher with 2,327 yards. He surpassed his cousin, Nick Brown, who ran for 2,274 in his career.

Hanson carried 12 times for 131 yards and Kevin Bisson ran 6 times for 16 yards.

Brock completed 1 of 3 passes for 12 yards and Taran Stephenson completed his only throw for 49 yards.

Hanson had one reception for 49 yards and Brown caught one ball for 12 yards.

Defense

Parker Duya led the defense with 17 tackles. Hanson added 12, Kevin Bisson 11, Brown 7, Grant Bisson 6, and Alex Rivera 5. Kevin Bisson also had an interception.

The Wildcats out-gained the Rebels on the night 431 yards to 278.

The Cats will wrap up the regular season on Thursday when they host Bishop Brossart for Senior Night.

That will be Breast Cancer Awareness Night. Fans are urged to wear pink. Kickoff is 7:30.

Soccer team wraps up great season

The Gallatin County Lady Cats faced Grant County in the first round of the 8th Region Tournament on Monday night.

Grant County had a 1-0 lead at the end of the first half. In the second half, Grant County was called for a penalty in the goalie box, setting up a penalty kick for Kyle Hartke, who scored the goal for the Wildcats.

After regular play and two five-minute over-times, the game was still tied 1-1, setting up a shootout.

The Lady Wildcats dominated the shootout, with goals scored by Kaylee Terrell, Alyssa Nichelson, Kyle Hartke and Shelby Ackermann.

The girls will play in the semi-finals, Tuesday night, at 6 p.m. against Anderson County at Walton-Verona.

Gallatin County's David Garcia screamed with joy after the Wildcats scored in the first quarter of Friday's game.

Elect Robert “Bud” Webster

Glencoe/Veterans Memorial Magistrate

Voters:

As another election draws near, I have been throughout the Glencoe/Veterans Memorial District and have talked to many of you. I apologize to those I missed along the way. As busy lives would have it, I have not been able to catch everyone home. During our discussions, I've heard many of you say you are looking for someone you can count on to represent you and fight for what our community needs. Let me briefly describe why I think I'm the right person for the job!

I have currently volunteered in our community for over 20 years and I am proud to have done so. I hope it shows everyone how dedicated I am to our county, to make it a better and safer place for us to live and work. For 20 years, many of you have counted on me in times of need and, if I am elected magistrate, I will certainly do my best for you again!

I have attended numerous local government meetings including the Glencoe City Council and Gallatin Fiscal Court over the last eight years, as well as meetings on the state and federal levels where I have been educated on ways to benefit our community. During this time I have heard many issues discussed and listened to citizens voice their concerns. Helping to make a positive change is what inspired me to run for political office, the very same reason I continue to volunteer year after year. Being in public service has shown me the value of helping others!

I feel being a magistrate should be about what I can do for you and our community, NOT what the office can do for me!

Feel free to contact me at electbw2014@yahoo.com or 859-393-6904 if you have comments or concerns that you would like to speak to me about. Please vote Robert “Bud Webster on November 4th for Glencoe/Veterans Memorial Magistrate.

Thanks for your consideration,
Bud Webster

Being the same property conveyed to Albert J. Moore and Sheila F. Moore, husband and wife, from Charles M. Moore, Widower by deed dated March 15, 1993 and recorded March 23, 1993, in Deed Book 62, page 420 of the records of the Gallatin County Clerk's office, Warsaw, Kentucky.

ALSO, See Affidavit of Conversion to Real Estate of record at Miscellaneous Book 2, page 394.

Said property shall be sold for the purpose of collecting the following judgment debt: A judgment in favor of the plaintiff(s) in the amount of $115,643.04 together with interest, assessments, taxes and costs herein expended.

TERMS OF SALE: The property shall be sold as a whole. The purchaser may pay all or part of the purchase price in cash, and may pay the balance of the purchase price on a credit of 30 days after date of sale; said credit shall be granted only upon the execution by the purchaser of bond, with surety thereon, and said surety shall be a lending institution, fidelity or surety company authorized and doing business in Kentucky or other surety approved by the Master Commissioner; an authorized officer of the surety must be present at the sale or must have given the Master Commissioner adequate assurance of its intent to be surety prior to or at the sale; said Bond shall be, and shall remain, a lien on the property sold as additional security for the payment of the full purchase price, and shall have the full force and effect of a Judgment; and said Bond shall bear interest at the rate of Twelve (12%) Percent per annum until paid. The purchaser shall be required to pay the sum of 10% of the bid amount in cash or certified check on the purchase at the time of sale. Risk of loss shall pass to the successful bidder at the close of the sale. The successful bidder at the sale shall, at bidder's own expense, carry fire and extended insurance coverage on any improvements from the date of sale until the purchase price is fully paid, with a loss payable clause to the Master Commissioner of the Gallatin Circuit Court. Failure of the purchaser to effect such insurance shall not affect the validity of the sale or the purchaser's liability thereunder, but shall entitle, but not require, a lien holder herein, after giving notice to the Master Commissioner, to effect said insurance and furnish the policy or evidence thereof to the Master Commissioner, and the premium thereon or the proper portion thereof shall be charged to the purchaser as purchaser's cost. The property shall be sold subject to ad valorem taxes for the year 2014 and all subsequent years thereafter; easements, restrictions and stipulations of record; assessments for public improvements levied against the property, if any; existing zoning ordinances, statutes, laws, or regulations; and any facts which an inspection and accurate survey of the property may disclose. BIDDERS SHALL BE PREPARED TO COMPLY WITH THESE TERMS.

Preserving Venison at home

Venison adds variety to your table. It can be eaten fresh now, or preserved for your family's enjoyment throughout the year. It can be frozen as steaks, roasts or sausage, or preserved by canning or drying.

However you plan to enjoy your venison, be sure you use care when field-dressing the deer to avoid contaminating the carcass. Cool the carcass to 35 to 40 degrees

F as quickly as possible. If desired, the meat can be aged for several days at 40 degrees F or less to allow enzymes to tenderize the meat. It is not advised to age venison in warm weather, since bacteria can grow quickly to unsafe levels. Store fresh venison in the refrigerator at 40 degrees F or lower and use roasts or steaks within three to five days, ground venison within one to two days.

Before freezing venison, trim off fat and clean the cuts so that they are ready for end use. Fat will go rancid sooner and often has a gamey flavor. Use bags or wrap designed for freezing and push out as much air as possible from the package before sealing. Seal, label and date each package and freeze quickly at 0 degrees F or below. For best quality, use roasts and steaks within 6 to 9 months, ground venison within 3 months. When ready to use, thaw meat in the refrigerator or microwave oven, never at room temperature.

Venison can be made into jerky, a lightweight dried meat product that requires no refrigeration. Drying removes the moisture that bacteria need to grow, but to ensure safe, good-tasting homemade jerky, research-based recommendations must be followed. The meat should be frozen at 0 degrees F or below for at least 30 days before drying, to kill parasites. If desired, the meat can be marinated to increase flavor and tenderness. To kill bacteria and reduce the risk of food poisoning, the jerky should be heated to 160 degrees F either before or after drying.

Achievement Award

It is time to be thinking about the 4-H Achievement Award. It is due on Monday, November 24th at 4:30 p.m. at the Gallatin County Extension Office. This is for middle and high school 4-H members. Applications are available at the Gallatin County Extension Office. Why should you apply?

- It is a comprehensive program spanning the entire career of 4-H.

- Awards points for outside efforts and interests.

- Encourages growth and development by awarding high point at multi-county, state, and national levels.

- Does not require a previous level of achievement to apply for a higher level as long as the 4-H'er meets the minimum point requirements.

- 4-H'er can choose to compete for awards and prizes (i.e. Bronze, Silver, Gold and Emerald) – OR simply achieve levels and be recognized in Gallatin County.

- You who have obtained a "Bronze", Silver", or "Gold" – retain your title.

If you have any questions, please call the extension office at 567-5481.

Ask Doctor Dirt...

By David Hull

Dear Doctor Dirt,

Is it still possible to get a Tobacco Phase I Cost-Share application? I either didn't get on, or I lost the one you mailed me. Thanks.

M.M.
Warsaw

Dear M.M.,

No problem. I have plenty of copies at the office and the deadline for filling them in is not until November the 4th. We don't need any receipts at this time, just the application.

Bug Proof your house this fall

You may have noticed your home being invaded by an assortment of pests this fall, including Asian lady beetles, boxelder bugs, crickets, spiders and black soldier beetle larvae. These creatures typically visit homes that provide easy entry this time of year, often seeking refuge from changing weather.

Pest proofing your home is the most efficient way to keep these critters out. A swatter, broom or vacuum cleaner and trash container will take care of pests that occasionally wander indoors. It's best to deal with boxelder bugs and lady beetles outside, before they enter your home.

Install door sweeps or thresholds at the base of all exterior entry doors, paying particular attention to the bottom corners that are a common entry location. Fit garage doors with a rubber bottom seal because vinyl doesn't seal well in the winter.

Utility openings where pipes and wires enter the foundation and siding are common entry points for spiders, ants, yellowjackets and rodents. You can use caulk, cement, urethane expandable foam, steel wool and copper mesh to plug openings around outdoor faucets, receptacles, gas meters, clothes dryer vents and telephone or cable television wires.

To reduce the entry of lady beetles, cluster flies and other overwintering pests, repair gaps and tears in window and door screens. Keep windows closed when adults are emerging to prevent entry. Repairing screens also will keep out flies, gnats, mosquitoes and midges next summer.

Another way to prevent pest entry is to apply an exterior barrier treatment with insecticides using a compressed air or hose-end sprayer. To gain the most from this effort, apply long-lasting liquid formulations that contain synthetic pyrethroids.

Doctor Dirt is really Dave Hull, Gallatin County Extension Agent for Agriculture. If you have farm or garden questions for the good doctor, stop by or call the Extension Service at 567-5481. Or, you can email him at dhull@uky.edu.

Loco for Cocoa' will be theme for Vevay's First Friday celebration

How much do you know about cocoa?

Find out during the Friday, November 7 "Loco for Cocoa" Vevay's First Friday from 6-9 p.m. Switzerland County Tourism, Vevay Main Street, and local businesses will include a cocoa scavenger hunt, and hot chocolate.

Pick up a scavenger hunt questionnaire at participating businesses and visit at least ten outlets to acquire answers to your questions as revealed by their staff.

A validation sticker must be collected at the business and returned with your paperwork to the Visitors Center to be entered into a drawing to win a cocoa/chocolate-themed gift basket. One answer per business. You must have at least ten correct answers to qualify for the drawing.

The Visitors Center will offer a cocoa coloring activity and free chocolate kisses for kids while supplies last. Vevay Main Street will provide free hot chocolate at the Visitors Center and several other locations around Vevay.

Marshmallows will be available for the asking through the Staff Puff Marshmallow Man who will be roaming the streets of Vevay. The event is free and open to the public.

Vevay's First Fridays

are presented by Vevay Main Street and include late night shopping, dining, art openings, store specials, and live entertainment and free carriage rides (weather permitting) around downtown Vevay.

The event is partially funded by Switzerland County Tourism.

Re-Elect John Spike Wright Gallatin County Attorney!

I'd like to take this opportunity to set the record straight about two issues which have been the subject of many of my opponent's ads: Child Support and DUI convictions. I'm proud of my work and my record as Gallatin County Attorney and think that you, the voters, are entitled to know ALL of the facts concerning these two important issues.

CHILD SUPPORT

I brought child support enforcement to Gallatin County. Prior to that time, all child support was handled by a private contractor in Boone County. His office had separate divisions for paternity, establishment, enforcement, collections, and interstate cases, with separate caseworkers for each department.

Now, it is handled here, locally. We have one dedicated caseworker for all five divisions of child support. Any citizen with a question or concern about child support can now come to my office and speak with our local caseworker. No longer do our citizens have to contact a private contractor in a call center or drive to Boone County to receive assistance.

We currently have 615 active cases in Gallatin County. Last year, the Gallatin County Child Support Office collected over $850,000 in child support for Gallatin County children. We prosecute for felony nonsupport once arrears have reached $1000 or more. However, we will try to work with a noncustodial parent who is paying, even sporadically, to establish a wage assignment. A parent who is in jail can't pay any child support at all -- and just costs the taxpayers more money!

For child support services call (859)567-1528. I encourage anyone with questions to call or stop by the office!

DUI CONVICTIONS

I have taken criticism from my opponent regarding DUI conviction rates. Here are the FACTS.

1) Between 2007 and 2012, there were 856 DUI arrests in Gallatin County. Comparatively speaking, that is an extraordinarily high DUI arrest rate given our population. For the same time period, Carroll County had 782 arrests, and Owen County had 319 arrests. Based on our population, 856 arrests translates to approximately one out of every 10 people in Gallatin County being arrested during that time period. Gallatin is the smallest county in the state yet ranks 50th out of 120 counties for DUI arrests. Why? Many of our arrests can be attributed to out of town visitors to the Kentucky Speedway and Belterra.

2) Kentucky Speedway arrests often involve police officers brought in from all over the Commonwealth, and it is nearly impossible to have them return to Gallatin County to testify. A case cannot be prosecuted without an arresting officer.

3) Gallatin County also does not have a hospital, making it much more difficult to conduct blood testing and to obtain crucial testimony. Hospital staff simply do not want to travel here to testify about something as simple as "What scrub was used when the blood was drawn, alcohol or non-alcohol?" Yet something this simple can completely destroy a case.

4) Many DUI arrests are made during Traffic Safety Check Points, or what are commonly called road blocks. Our District Judges have never liked them. The Kentucky State Police have a list of rules they must follow before a Check Point can be legal. At one time, something as simple as failing to advertise the road check in the local paper resulted in ALL arrests from that road check being thrown out.

5) Between 2007 and 2012, there were 533 DUI convictions in Gallatin County. That comes out to a 62% conviction rate. We are by no means perfect, but I am proud of my work as prosecutor, and I will continue to work hard to make sure that the guilty are punished and that no innocent are convicted.

Cedar Creek Lake receives rainbow trout

Lincoln County's Cedar Creek Lake received 12,000 rainbow trout in a stocking performed this week by the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources. Trout stockings first began at this popular 762-acre lake in October 2012. Fisheries Research Biologist Dave Dreves said the lake remains a hidden gem among trout anglers. "Our evaluation of the 2012-2013 rainbow trout stocking at Cedar Creek showed that there wasn't as much fishing pressure and harvest as we expected," Dreves said. "We think anglers will flock there once word gets out — especially when they realize there's so much bank access that you don't need to have a boat to catch trout."

Anglers can catch rainbow trout with worms, cheese, corn, salmon eggs and Powerbait, as well as small in-line spinners and other lures.

The department stocked fish at three sites: the ramp at the dam; the ramp on old U.S. 150, located in mid-lake; and at the fishing access area in the upper lake, located adjacent to the KY 1770 bridge. Each site received 4,000 trout.

"The trout going into water averaged 10 inches long," noted Southeastern District Fisheries Biologist John Williams. "This provides a great opportunity for people to keep catching fish at the lake throughout the winter, when other kinds of fish just aren't biting."

Another stocking of 9,000 trout will follow in February. Anglers can expect to catch trout through June. Cedar Creek is considered a "put and take" lake for trout. Because trout cannot survive in the warmer water temperatures of summer, the department encourages anglers to keep what they catch. There is no size limit on trout in the lake. Anglers may keep up to eight rainbow trout.

Visitors to Cedar Creek Lake can go online to the Kentucky Fish and Wildlife website at fw.ky.gov to see a map and other information about the lake.

Fisheries personnel tagged 600 trout in this stocking and will tag another 600 in the February stocking in an attempt to determine angler use. This information will be used to evaluate whether to continue trout stockings in the lake.

The department will conduct a creel survey through the end of May to help determine utilization.

Dreves encourages people to return the tag from any tagged fish. The department has placed four metal boxes around the lake where anglers may get an envelope, fill out the information about the catch then deposit the envelope.

Boxes are located at each stocking site as well as the Cowan Road boat ramp. The envelopes are postage paid. Anglers may take them home to fill them out, then send them back to Kentucky Fish and Wildlife. Anglers must include their name, address, phone number and whether they kept the trout or released it.

Participants will receive a pewter fish pin and be entered into a monthly drawing for cash prizes.

A total of nine drawings will be made each month: one $100 winner, one $50 winner, two $25 winners and five $10 winners. "You stay in until you win," Dreves said.

Adult anglers must have a trout permit in addition to a fishing license to keep those fish. A trout permit is included in the senior/disabled license and the Sportsman's license.

State Parks offer discounts to military, retirees and veterans

The Kentucky State Parks are offering lodging discounts to current and former members of our nation's armed services with the "USA Military Discount" program from Nov. 1, 2014, to March 31, 2015.

The program is available to those on active military duty, retired members of the military, veterans, members of the National Guard and reservists. Proof of military service is required at check-in.

With the USA Military Discount, lodge rooms are available starting at $44.95 a night; one-bedroom cottages for $74.95 a night; two-bedroom cottages for $84.95 a night and three-bedroom cottages for $94.95 a night. Tax is not included in these rates. These rates are good at 11 resort parks plus the cottages at John James Audubon State Park.

The rate is $5 more per night at these parks: Barren River, Cumberland Falls, Kentucky Dam Village, Lake Barkley, Lake Cumberland and Natural Bridge.

The Kentucky State Parks have 17 resorts that offer golf, fishing, hiking on scenic trails, beautiful scenery and full-service restaurants. Many resorts are near or include historic sites and museums and offer programs during the fall and winter, such as elk tours, eagle watching tours and entertainment.

This offer may not be used in conjunction with other special discounts or packages. The discount is based on availability, for leisure travel only, and may exclude special events and holidays.

For more information about Kentucky State Parks and to make reservations, visit www.parks.ky.gov.

(If you're making your reservation online, use "USA" for the promo code. During the April through October period, select "military discount" when making an online reservation.)

'TIS THE POLITICAL SEASON . . .

. . . And I'd like to make a series of tempting offers to the citizens of Gallatin County. I'd like to give you the good news that, if you vote for me, the path ahead will be full of wealth, comfort, and luxury for everyone. I'd also like to tell you that, with nothing more than a few votes on November 4th, our community will receive its very own no-limit credit card.

But I can't do that. The reality is, to be financially creative — that is, to think outside the box and create the revenue necessary to run our community's day-to-day operations — will be just as much a full-time job as it's always been. It will still depend on teamwork, it will still require a 24/7 commitment, and it will still be a difficult process.

As a Fiscal Court member for 12 years, I've seen many issues confronted and many problems dealt with. We have always worked hard to move forward with the county's well-being and taxpayers' interest in mind, sometimes with small steps, sometimes large. Similarly, this administration has a track record of responsibility and prudence when handling taxpayer money. But the more important fact is that it has handled finances wisely while still looking toward the future and making improvements to the quality of life in our community.

- New Senior, Crisis, Community Center
- Major remodeling, maintenance of our county buildings
- Purchase of 4 ambulances (plus maintenance schedules for each)
- Purchase of vehicles for Sheriff's department, one new every other year
- Retirement of debt on several fire and emergency vehicles (while continuing to fund new equipment, truck, fire gear, and program support)
- Support and furnishing of building for the Gallatin County Food Pantry
- Increased support for our Family Resource Center
- Support against drug abuse (with task force)
- Establishment of Skytech Internet, a county-owned and operated high-speed Internet company
- Construction of salt storage building which has saved us over $10,000
- Purchase of equipment for our county road department to continue providing top-notch service
- Increased funding and continued support for youth sports programs
- Improvement of county parks: Glencoe Pavilion (plus an in-progress basketball court), 127/42 Overlook, Sugar Creek landing ramp
- Addition of the 500-acre Hartig Park, a tremendous asset to the northern region, and the entirety, of our county (with endless possibilities, including horseback and hiking trails, camping, fishing, or hunting)
- NOW UNDERWAY: Establishment of a YMCA facility in Gallatin County.

Let our track record for the last few years give us insight into the most pressing questions: •Do we have the expertise to see our projects through, from conception to completion? •Can we achieve our goals using teamwork, foresight, and creativity? •Will our previous experiences help us maintain financial security in an uncertain future?

You, the citizen, will be able to answer these questions on November 4th. My answer? I think the record speaks for itself!

Frights and delights at Kentucky Horse Park

It's not just area children who dress up in costumes for Halloween. In Kentucky, horses do, too! On Saturday, Oct. 26, at 2 p.m., the Kentucky Horse Park will present its annual Halloween Show at the Horses of the World Barn where park horses and their riders are likely to show up as just about anything – a scary headless horseman, cranky wicked witch, swash-buckling pirates, genie with a bottle, “Phantom of the Opera” – it's different every year.

Throughout the year, the Horses of the World Show is presented with riders wearing costumes appropriate to the breed of horse or discipline.

For the Halloween Show, costume ideas are planned all year by park employees and special guests to wrap up the park's summer tourist season with a fun twist on the tradition.

For more information about the Halloween Show, call the Kentucky Horse Park at 859-233-4303 or 800-678-8813.

Vote Joe Shinkle! Napoleon/Concord Magistrate

Citizens of Napoleon Concord Precincts:

It's hard to believe this term as magistrate is coming to a close. Now I find myself asking for your vote for another chance to represent you. I enjoy the opportunity of serving the people of our district. Am I perfect? Far from it. Have I made mistakes? Sure, but it's an ongoing learning process.

Our fiscal court has done some amazing things for Gallatin County in the last 4 years. (I don't feel the need to list them as they can be found in other political ads in this paper.) I've had the opportunity to work with an excellent team these last four years. Everything that has been accomplished has been a joint effort. No one person can take credit.

Most of you know me, but for those who don't, here's a little history. My father was the late Walter Shinkle who was a pastor and local businessman. My mother was the late Frances Shinkle who taught in the Gallatin school system for 31 years. (The only F grade I received in high school was given to me by my mother.) My wife, Vicki, and I have two children, Shelby, 22, and Drake, 20. We live on the family farm where we raise beef cattle and own a small concrete construction business.

I ask for your support on November the 4th. I want the opportunity to serve you again because it's not a job to be taken lightly. It takes time to learn and make the right decisions.

If you have any questions or need a ride to the polls I can be reached at 393-3271. I will continue to make myself available to you, just call me anytime.

Sincerely,
Joel Shinkle

Elect Sally Courtney Davis Magistrate

To all my friends, neighbors and citizens in the Glencoe and Veterans Memorial precincts:

It has been a pleasure to visit and talk with you during my campaign. You have shown me so much respect and your hospitality surpassed any that I might have expected.

When I started this campaign I was a bit overwhelmed at first, but after a few visits I realized I truly live in a community with very special people. You made me feel so welcome and I thank you for that.

People I had never seen before invited me into their homes to introduce themselves, eat with them, and share a little conversation. It would surely be an honor to me to serve as your magistrate for the next four years and work together with you to help our county continue to move forward for all our benefit.

This is one reason why I'm asking for your vote on Tuesday, November 4th, 2014.

My apologies to those people I missed!

Vote Teresa Siffel for School Board Upper Warsaw/Veterans Memorial

My name is Teresa Siffel. I was born, and grew up in Cincinnati, Ohio. I'm the oldest of four girls. I grew up with my grandparents and great-grandparents around, and I'm very fortunate to still have a 103-year-old great-grandmother and grandmother still in Cincinnati with my mother. For me, family means a lot.

I married my husband, Wes, in May 2000. We moved to Gallatin County in June 2001 — it is home. We have four wonderful children: Cheyenne - a sophomore, Katie - 7th grade, Eli - 2nd grade, and Molly is in kindergarten.

I am a Union Electrician. It took five years of evenings and working in my field to achieve journeyman status.

I have volunteered at Taste of Cincinnati, Tall Stacks, Gallatin County Family Resource Center, the school's Facilities Board, at the Lower Elementary, and various functions for my local. I currently sit on my local's LMCC board.

My belief is that our youth should be prepared for the real world when they graduate, whether it's college, the military, or the workforce.

We have a duty to make sure the youth of today are prepared for the next step in life. With your help, I would like to assist them into their future.

Vote #6 - A Voice You Can Count On!
Elect Dustin McEntire for Warsaw City Council!

For those of you who don't know me, I am Dustin McEntire. I have lived in Gallatin County my entire life and lived in Warsaw the last 10 years. I currently reside there with my wife, Christina Clark McEntire, and our three children: Lukas, Kailyn, and Greyson.

For those I've spoken with on my campaign trail, thank you for your feedback, questions and concerns. For those I've missed, I apologize and wish to hear any concerns you may have.

You can contact me by phone at 859-307-9362, or email: dm0874@yahoo.com. I still have some people I haven't made it to see, but I plan to hit every street before November 4th.

With your support, I will be a City Councilman who will be available by phone, text or email only if I'm not available in person.

If you have a concern, it will be brought to council in Open Session. As you know, you can't please everyone and I know I can't please everyone. However, I can promise I will be honest to you, fair to every person in the city, loyal to our city and most of all —

I WILL BE A VOICE YOU CAN COUNT ON!!

Support me — Dustin McEntire — by voting #6 on your Warsaw City Council Ballot on November 4th, and I will Support YOU as your City Councilman!

Political Campaign Letters

Dear Editor:

Edmund Burke is credited for stating: "The only thing necessary for the triumph of evil is for good men to do nothing."

In response to Mr. Hornsby's letter to you published in the October 22 issue of the newspaper, I feel compelled to ensure your readers know they have a good man as the Gallatin County Attorney by providing them some facts related to Mr. Hornsby's letter.

1. Mr. Hornsby owns property in this county, but resides in Ohio, not in Warsaw.

2. The court order Mr. Hornsby claims to have in place was dissolved by the Gallatin County Circuit Court on April 20, 2012. I would have thought his Cincinnati attorney would have informed him of that. Mr. Hornsby has no legal grounds to block a public road and was served with a criminal complaint that I filed. Spike Wright's job as county attorney is to apply the law, which he did.

3. I am not a real estate developer or speculator. I am the fourth generation owner of farm property that has been in my family for over 140 years.

With that said, I have been involved in a frivolous lawsuit brought by Mr. Hornsby a/k/a Kentucky Properties Holding, LLC, where he has attempted to block and/or restrict the public road that the public at large and my family has used since the Civil War.

During this lengthy legal process, the only two elected officials whom I can say have treated me fairly and consistently are Gallatin County Attorney John "Spike" Wright and Gallatin County Sheriff Josh Neale. I believe both of these men have the toughest jobs in the county and, by the nature of their positions, are going to be unpopular with some, even absentee landowners from Ohio.

I find Mr. Hornsby's letter to be baseless, misleading, full of fear mongering and more of an instrument to tarnish a good man's reputation for doing nothing more than his job. Being firm, fair and consistent are qualities I admire in elected officials and are seldom seen in today's politics. I sincerely hope the resident of Gallatin County are not unduly influenced by their neighbors to the north.

Donald E. Sproul
Warsaw

Dear Editor:

I have paid close attention to the County Attorney race and have tried to educate myself on each candidate's vision for our county's future. The letter my husband and I received from Grant Axon and the lack of any information in this regard from the incumbent has made our choice perfectly clear. Mr. Axon obviously sees the problems we all know exist and has a plan to improve our great county. Mr. Wright does not seem to think there is a problem at all and appears to believe he deserves the job simply because he has had it for a long time. However, I have seen what has happened to our county during Mr. Wright's long watch. I have seen all of the statistics regarding our county's poor performance and dismal rankings in conviction rates, etc. I have heard numerous stories of favoritism when deciding who to prosecute and who not to prosecute.

When searching for information from Spike Wright about these concerns, I have only found a few comments claiming he is the best man for the job because he has been an attorney for 28 years. In one comment regarding child support enforcement, Mr. Wright boasted that when he took office, child support was run by the Boone County Attorney's office and parents had to call or travel to Burlington in order to talk about their case. What he failed to mention was that since he took over the child support enforcement contract (which pays greater than $100,000 per year), our county has gone from consistently ranking in the top ten in the state in child support collection to our current ranking of 97th. If I were a parent in need of support, I would much rather drive to Burlington and actually get the help I need than walk a block or two and get nothing, while watching those paid well to help line their own pockets.

Another comment that caught my eye was one in which Mr. Wright "bragged" that in 28 years, he has tried over 100 cases, among which he won ten! For a moment, I actually thought I must be reading an endorsement for Mr. Axon.

I urge our county residents to read the letters you received from Grant Axon and think about the problems facing our county and how they came to be. Think about Mr. Axon's ideas of how to address these problems and improve our county, and think about the fact the incumbent refuses to even admit these are problems that should be addressed. On November 4, vote for the person who wants to make the changes this county needs to return it to the great place it should be. Vote for Grant Axon!

Sincerely,
Janet L. Baker
Warsaw

Dear Editor:

I grew up in Gallatin County and I am raising my family here. I support Grant Axon for county attorney because I agree with his ideas of bettering our county.

Mr. Axon has stated he will get the drug dealers of the street and I want my children to grow up in a community where I will not have to worry about drugs getting to them.

I hope you will vote for Grant Axon on November 4.

Mindy Lay-Turner
Warsaw

Dear Editor:

I encourage all fellow citizens to vote for Grant Axon as county attorney. We need someone who knows and respects the law and the importance of being fair and impartial. In reading the court news, I see too many instances of flagrant repeat offenders and failure to appear, which are not followed up on. Grant is the man to fix this.

Denny French is a compassionate man and has served the community in various positions all of his life. He is qualified for the job of coroner and dedicated.

Frank Workman
Warsaw

Dear Editor:

My wife and I have lived in this town all of our lives and we are disgusted with the judicial system and the people we trusted and elected into office.

It's time someone was elected who worries about right and wrong.

Please join my wife, Mary, and me in voting for Grant Axon.

Tim Stafford
Warsaw

Dear Editor:

I want to thank Grant Axon for showing change is possible. Not only does he stand up for our rights, but you see him and his family at every event in our community. You see them doing their part in the community and mingling with everyone. The most important thing is he sees what the citizens see and has felt a lot has needed changes for a long time. I hope when people vote, they are voting to better the county and not keep it the same. Vote Grant Axon for county attorney, November 4.

LOWER WARSAW AND PART OF UPPER WARSAW

Campaign Letters

Dear Editor:

I am writing to endorse Grant Axon as our new county attorney. Although I have only known Mr. Axon and his family for a short time, he has impressed me with his knowledge, integrity and morality.

Mr. Axon impresses me with his commitment to support local law enforcement to rid our county of drug dealers, impaired drivers, neglected properties and collection of child support. All of this is affecting our lives in lower property values, higher taxes and revolving door charges and trials for repeat offenders.

I hope you will join me in voting for Grant Axon for county attorney.

J.A. Elliott
Warsaw

Dear Editor:

Gallatin County has the opportunity to elect a man who represents everything we should want in an elected official. Grant Axon is intelligent, dedicated, and committed to helping the citizens of Gallatin County.

As an attorney myself and a former law clerk for Grant, I can tell you he is not only the kind of attorney any citizen should hope to have, he is also the kind of man all citizens should hope to have representing them. He truly cares about making a difference in the lives of those in his community. I saw the dedicated hours he put in to help his clients, an important trait to recognize in an attorney, because success can frequently be traced to the amount of time and work that is invested in an issue. Grant is committed to helping his clients and, as your county attorney, he will be committed to helping all of you - his clients. He will reverse the poor statistics of the county attorney's office in Gallatin County.

Grant is extremely intelligent and well respected in the legal field. He has worked on an impressive amount of cases in his career. He is more than qualified and has the experience that his opponent believes is so important.

On November, I urge you to elect Grant Axon.

ILT Charles R. Allan, USAR
Oldham County

Dear Editor:

John F. Kennedy said, "Let us not seek the Republican answer or the Democratic answer, but the right answer. Let us not seek to fix the blame for the past. Let us accept our own responsibility for the future."

Those are words that cause me to ponder our future in Gallatin County and that is why I believe it is time for a change and I encourage you to vote for Grant Axon for county attorney. He is a family man who believes in fairness for all who live in Gallatin County.

Nancy Volmer
Warsaw

Dear Editor:

When we met Grant Axon, we could tell he was a man of his word. While he was doing some legal work for us, he told us to call him if we needed him and he promptly returned my call. When he tells you he will do something, it gets done.

Mr. Axon is very active in his children's lives and in his community. He and his wife were active members of our Relay for Life team. They also donated to other Relay for Life teams. He is also involved with the Gallatin County Community Food Pantry.

Grant Axon is a professional who cares about his community and doing what is best for all. My wife and I are proud to call Grant a friend. Vote for Grant Axon on November 4.

Steve and Regina
Zimmer
Warsaw

Dear Editor:

I urge voters to keep Spike Wright as Gallatin County Attorney for another term. As a life-long resident of the county, Spike is acutely aware of the needs and challenges of our community and is invested in finding solutions. Having raised his family here, Spike has the experience of building relationships with the citizens, schools and city and county governments. Spike has been a trusted advisor to many over the years and returning him to office is the right thing to do for Gallatin County.

Becky Burgett Verona

Dear Editor:

Having worked with John "Spike" Wright for the last 18 years, I feel I am in a good position to tell you what kind of person he is. It is no exaggeration for me to say that no one takes their job more seriously than Spike does. He is honest and hard-working. Unless you have worked in this office, you will never know the devotion with which Spike approaches his work.

Not only is Spike a dedicated civil servant, but he is also a Christian who puts his faith into practice on a daily basis. Spike's faith guides every decision he makes. I have personally seen his daily struggle to do the right thing in every criminal prosecution that comes across his desk. I cannot count the times Spike has come into the office in the morning, almost to the point of physical illness, because he had been up all night, struggling to make the right and just decision.

It is a prosecutor's job to convict those who break the law. But it is also a prosecutor's responsibility to discover the truth and ensure that no innocent is ever convicted. Far too many prosecutors think it is their job to obtain a conviction in every single case, regardless of the facts before them. Far too many are obsessed with statistics, thinking that conviction rates alone are the measure of a great prosecutor. That is not how it should be. I know that Spike looks at every case in an even-handed manner and is as fair a prosecutor as you will ever find.

Spike is also a life-long resident of Gallatin County and has always had a deep love for his community. He grew up here, he has worked here, and he has raised a family here. Spike and his wife, Barbie, chose to raise their children here, educate them here, and bring them to church here. Spike is deeply involved in this community in many ways. You may not know it, however, because he does not do these things for praise, vanity or to garner votes.

Spike tries his best to help every person who walks into our office, even those who have insulted him, attempted to discredit his name, or made false accusations against him. Being county attorney is not an easy job. Every decision he makes is examined, scrutinized and questioned. But Spike has proven time and time again that he is up to the challenge. A county attorney must be fair, experienced, hard-working, knowledgeable, and a worthy ambassador for the county. Spike is all of these things.

I am honored to call Spike Wright my boss and my friend. I encourage everyone to vote for Spike on November 4 because he is the right and the best choice.

Jane Lynn Brown
Warsaw

Dear Editor :

I have worked with Spike Wright since 1999 and have known him since I moved to Gallatin County in 1972.

Spike is a devoted civil servant and a compassionate, humble person who lives his faith each and every day. He is a steadfast servant of the Lord. Spike's attitude and respect towards others shines forth, as he firmly does unto others as he would have others do to him. He is also very committed to his family.

On Election Day, it is the primary focus of many of us to go vote. It does no good if you support someone and do not make the trip to cast your vote. So, I encourage everyone to cast their votes for John "Spike" Wright for county attorney.

Sally Haddix
Warsaw

Dear Editor:

I am writing to encourage the voters of Gallatin County to re-elect John "Spike" Wright as county attorney.

ney.

I spent 18 years patrolling Gallatin, Carroll and Owen Counties, as a Kentucky State Police Trooper. Mr. Wright is a great county attorney! Gallatin County has Kentucky Speedway and a constant flow of Belterra traffic. Gallatin County does not have a hospital for easy access to blood testing. Despite the high volume and difficulty of cases, Spike Wright has been working hard to convict the guilty.

I have worked with Spike as both a defender and a prosecutor. There is none better!

Donnie Mullikin
Kentucky State Police Trooper, Retired

Dear Editor:
As we make our way closer to Election Day, we all have some hard choices to make.

Vote for the candidate who will do the job. Vote for the man who will be accountable for our tax dollars and who they appoint to handle them, only trustworthy people. We need a change.

Dear Editor:

Mike Hampton is a U.S. Army veteran. He has served several terms as council member, and he is a volunteer fireman and an EMT, which shows his concern for the people of Gallatin County. We urge you to join us in voting for Mike Hampton as Glencoe's mayor.

Robert "Bud" Webster is the best choice for magistrate from Glencoe Veteran's Memorial precinct. He is the fire chief of Glencoe and has acquired grants that has allowed the department to update its vehicles and equipment. Through his leadership, the department's ratings have been boosted.

Electing Bud Webster and Mike Hampton will provide Glencoe with continued improvements.

We also endorse Ken McFarland for Judge/executive.

Questions for Ken McFarland on his 'Accomplishments' Listed in Last Week's Paper.

• The Major Remodeling and Maintenance of Our County Buildings.

Would that be the added on building behind the fire station? Did that ever go before the fiscal court? Was it ever voted on? When a building will cost more than $10,000 it's supposed to be put out for bid. Was a bid ever made? Was it in the newspaper? Or does this this comment mean the animal shelter where the improvements were made by private donations?

• The New Senior Center

Was that project ever bid on? Was it listed in the paper? Was that the project given to your family member?

• The Purchase of Ambulances and New Vehicles

Isn't this the normal job of the county?

• Increased Support of the Family Resource Center.

Doesn't that money come from the state?

• Support Against Drug Abuse.

Isn't it the Sheriff's Department that handles that?

• Purchase of New Road Equipment

Isn't that the normal job of the county?

• Establishment of SkyTech Internet Service.

Is that the service that was established after the competing companies like Cincinnati Bell and Verizon were kept out of the county? Is that the service that isn't available to everyone? Is it legal for a fiscal court to own a business competing unfairly with other companies?

• Construction of Salt Storage Building

Where is that? Is that the concrete blocks at the County Road Department that were added around the piles of salt?

• The Addition of the 500-Acre Hartig Park.

Wasn't this land given to Gallatin County? How did you have a hand in that?

• Now Underway: Establishment of the YMCA.

Is this the YMCA that everyone wants a pool with? Is this the pool you said "no" to?

Aren't you the one who was sued by a local wrecking service for the other wreckers' services not being compliant with County Requirements? Didn't you lose that lawsuit? Why haven't you made the other wreckers comply?

Isn't the 911 dispatch center being hit with numerous complaints about one of the dispatchers you refuse to fire?

Are you checking into the missing donations of kennels, food and pet supplies from GSI/Petsmart that were handed over to the Animal Control Officer and never seen again?

Did you know that Ebay is doing an investigation on this as they own GSI?

You run this county but haven't you lost 3 businesses of your own?

Do your accomplishments hold up under scrutiny?

Dear Editor:

Many of you may already know me from my years of coaching soccer and G-Ball, or as your son's Cub Master in Cub Scouts, but for those who don't, let me introduce myself. My name is Damon Lewis; I am a 33-yearold husband and father of four. I am a firm believer in education, hence the reason I attended college for eleven years. While in college, I majored in a variety of different areas, such as Computer Science, Criminal Justice, Political Science, and Early Childhood Education. My wife, Janie, and I married in 2001, and have four wonderful children ranging in ages from nine to fifteen. We are both very involved with youth activities here in Warsaw. I am a former member of the Big Brother\Big Sister program, and an advocate for those who don't have a voice. I try to always remain open minded, and to think outside the box. I am a very family and community oriented person who believes honesty is always the best policy regardless of who does or doesn't like it. I am a straight shooter and not the type to blow smoke. I say what I mean and mean what I say.

The reason I have decided to run for the office of Mayor of Warsaw, is because I see so much untapped potential in our small community. It is rare that our community is recognized for positive things, but common to hear the negative. I would like to change that, and help to give our children positive influences and open up communication between citizens and local government. Through my education and prior leadership roles, I understand the functions of government, while at the same time, believe that government tends to allow too much gray area that a common sense approach could procure. It is my firm belief that all citizens should have a voice, and I want to be that voice for you. I will always have an open ear to the people of our community and be forth coming. It is only by open communication that our community can move forward.

I thank you for taking the time to learn more about me and what I believe we all want for our community. That being said, I ask for your support: Vote Damon L. Lewis on November 4. If you would like more information, feel free to contact me or search Elect Damon L. Lewis on Facebook.

Dear Editor:

I have lived in Glencoe for about 20 years. I have seen this city when sewage was running in ditches, sidewalks were broken, there was no police and no place for our children to play. I know who changed this, Mr. Murphy did. I have seen the efforts Mr. Murphy has made to make the city a better place to live. While there are several people running for mayor, I don't believe we need to again take a chance on failed leadership again. Mr. Murphy has proven himself, experience counts.

Della Pratt
Glencoe

Dear Editor:

In the 14 years Michael Murphy was mayor, he was responsible for $2.9 million in grants that he used to better Glencoe. We now have a proper sewage system, new sidewalks, and some residents were able to get new homes due to his hard work, his dedication and determination to move Glencoe forward.

In the past four years since Mr. Murphy has not been in office, it seems that our city has fallen to neglect due to a lack of leadership. We no longer have police protection in the city, and vandalism and theft are at all time highs here in Glencoe.

So, I ask the residents of Glencoe to vote for the man who knows how to get it done and continues to move Glencoe forward.

Erica M. Adams
Glencoe

Dear Editor:

Sally Davis is well respected in Glencoe. She always cares about the well being of others. She always has a smile. She cares about the community and what goes on in it. This is the kind of person we need so vote for Sally Davis.

Mary Barnett
Glencoe

Dear Editor:

I am asking the voters to join me in casting a vote for Sally Courtney Davis for magistrate.

I have known Sally for many years and I have never known her to be anything but trustworthy. Sally and her husband were so kind to me when my late husband was sick. They brought food to my house, talked to my husband to keep his spirits up and even helped get him to a church in Covington so he could get baptized. If I need anything, Sally is there.

Sally has a strong community value and sees the best in its people. She treats everyone the same. She has a firm religious background and enjoys helping other people.

I know she will be there for us all. We need Sally in office. Vote on November 4 for Sally Courtney Davis.

Teresa Olene Dunaway
Glencoe

Dear Editor:

My husband has been battling cancer for five years. During that time, Sally Courtney Davis has brought food to our house, she has prayed with us. She has hauled me to and from church when I didn't feel like driving.

I know Sally will be there for us in time of need. That's why I'm voting for Sally Courtney Davis on Tuesday, November 4.

Coleen Bailey

Dear Editor:

Mike Murphy has been at every meeting, down in the ditches in town when it rained to stop flooding, he was always available for the people, but I can't begin to name everything he did.

It perplexed me when Rick Dunaway stopped helping Mike and began opposing him. If Mike wins, You can always find him and he will do his best for your needs.

Mildred Ryles
Glencoe

Dear Editor:

Mike Murphy was mayor of Glencoe for 14 years and I think people have forgotten all of the things he did while he was in office. He worked hard and never gave up on trying to find grants to improve Glencoe. That hard work lead to $2.9 million dollars of grant money that he used to improve the quality of living. Included in this was the three sidewalk projects, three sewer projects, eight homes in the city were replaced with new, more energy efficient homes, and he got funding to help build the city park. Mike even helped build it. I remember Mike making countless trips to Frankfort to meet with legislators and governors about the future of Glencoe. Remember when we had full time police protection? I remember complaining about it at the time, but now I miss it. Mike sat on regional waste water boards and was at most of the planning and zoning meetings. He also cleaned out storm drains, cleared trash in the city and mowed right-of-ways. He did this while holding down a full time job.

After my husband passed away, I realized what kind of man Mike Murphy is. He helped fix the roof and floors in my home. He mowed my yard for years just to help me and my family. I am not the only elderly person he helps. I have been told by countless people in this town about his caring and generous attitude.

Mike Murphy is a man who cares about this town. He still attends every town meeting and has the desire to get Glencoe back on track to growing for the good of the people who live here. So, on November 4, I ask the people of Glencoe to help get our city back. Vote for Mike Murphy.

Teresa Olene Dunaway
Glencoe

Dear Editor:

We support Mike Murphy for mayor. I have been a resident of Glencoe for eight years and have seen what Mr. Murphy can do as mayor of the city. Our present mayor and city council has not done anything to improve our city.

We don't have police protection any more and no one represents us on any board. I have seen Mr. Murphy go to countless meetings in Frankfort, and deal with problems in our city. So do we want a mayor who will lead the city or do we want someone who will let everyone else run the city?

Ethan S. Moore

for your

Warsaw City Council

During the past several weeks, it has been very pleasant to visit with old friends and meet new ones as I have made my way around our city in my efforts to obtain a seat on your Warsaw City Council.

It has been a pleasure talking to the citizens of our city and listening to their views and concerns. Only together can we achieve the success that we all seek for our town!

If I have missed anyone while on the campaign trail, please understand it was unintentional and I will make every effort to see each and every person I can before Tuesday, November 4th!

So remember on November 4th, cast your vote for #4 on the ballot and elect Ethan S. Moore for your Warsaw City Council.

Your Vote & Support is greatly appreciated!

Vote—Almedia Hendren

Upper Warsaw/Veterans Memorial School Board Member

My name is Almedia Hendren. I was born here in Gallatin County. My parents were Cecil and Audrey Hendren. My brothers were Forrest and Billy Hendren. My family now consists of nephews and nieces: Troy and Tammy Hendren; Nathan and Crystal Hendren; and Jeff Hendren.

I graduated from Gallatin County High School and advanced towards a college education. I attended Midway Jr. College earning an AA degree in Liberal Arts. I also attended Augusta College in Augusta, GA. I earned an AA degree studying psychology and criminal justice.

I was in the US Army for seven years, and one year in Reserves. I received two letters of commendation, attended non-commissioner officer school, trained to be a medical/dental tech. I also served in Korea during the Vietnam War.

I worked in Sarasota, Florida, as a correctional and intake officer. I retired and moved back to Warsaw due to family illness.

Since I have been back home I have worked with the Gallatin County School system as a bus monitor, substitute bus driver, and also as a full time bus driver. I have also been in the position as substitute teacher.

Now I am trying to become a school board member. Why? I have seen many advancements -- new buildings, new computers in the schools, etc. Our school system's goal is to prepare every student to be college bound. I support educational advancement.

However I have seen too many of our students that cannot spell, cannot do math and cannot read. I believe if we let one child pass without having these abilities we have failed.

We need to back up to go forward. Every dime that is spent needs to be accounted for, along with the knowledge that that dime was spent to improve our children's educational needs.

We as school board members need to be held accountable.

To the Voters!

Campaign slogans sound so good, but all too often they mean absolutely nothing. We want a safe and prosperous place to raise our families and the place we call home to be the greatest! But we never know who will tell the truth. I have seen it over and over — we, the voters, lose because we have been duped by all the political rhetoric. Nevertheless, the records for those already in office speak louder than words.

Yes, I've chosen my candidates, and I have high hopes that they will win. But the more important question should be: "Will we as a Community WIN? Will WE?"

Have we taken the time to ensure our vote is one of change for the betterment of Gallatin County? Have we taken the time to see if the person currently holding the position has worked for ALL people? Does their record speak for itself or do they have to explain why it doesn't? Have they done all they could with the position we gave them four years ago? Have they taken responsibility for themselves and their behavior and their office? Are they a person of Integrity, Honesty and a strong Moral compass? Have they led by example? Have they had the courage to stand in the front and speak out against Wrong? Have they done the right thing even if it was not popular? Have they made the best decisions for our county and not for themselves or a select few? Have they truly displayed leadership? Have they stood up in this election and told us the facts and honestly told us where they could improve or what they could do better? Have they stood up for children and their families?

Folks, many times we never think about anything until it's too late and it affects us personally. Many things that our elected officials do every day is affecting us. It just may not have reached you personally yet. I ask that you look around this beautiful county and ask yourself if your Candidates have done everything within their power to make sure your friends, families, and neighbors have mattered to your candidate, that they have been treated fairly and respectfully and have truly cared about their well-being with a real concern for all of our futures. Have they displayed compassion and a true attitude of "What can I do to see us get better?" Have they asked your opinion when it was not just election time?

I could start naming the names of the ones who deserve to either be given the chance to be elected or re-elected but if you truly care about Gallatin County and answer the questions above, then YOU will be voting for the best suited Leader and who should lead our County and that would be my choice! You have less than a week to ask the questions and look at Candidates' records to truly make the best choice for Gallatin County and to truly see Gallatin County be a safe and prosperous place to live and raise our families. GO VOTE and make the difference we all say we wish we could make. We can!!

Dear Editor:
I am asking you to vote for Ethan Moore for City Council. He has been in our lives since early childhood. He is a fine young man, very dear to our family. He is never too busy for older people and loves life to its fullest.

This is a young man who has been around politics all of his life. His great-grandmother, Kate Kinman; his aunt, Trudy Gould; his aunt, Bea Scott; his uncle, Eric Moore; and his grandfather, Jerry Webb have all held political offices.

I put my trust in him for city council and I hope you will support him, too. We love you, Ethan Moore, and good luck!

Mayme and Virgil Walters Warsaw

Dear Editor:
We are asking the voters of the city of Warsaw to vote for Ethan Scott Moore. You cannot vote for a better person. His family has been in politics, so he knows the good and the bad and wants to make a difference for all of our future in Warsaw.

Ethan is a hard worker, honest, and Christian man. I am very proud and consider it a privilege to call Ethan Moore our dear friend, just as he will be for you if he gets elected.

Brenda and Ricky Raisor Warsaw

Dear Editor:
I was pleased to learn that Denny French has chosen Chad E. Adams to be his deputy coroner if he wins the race for the position of Gallatin County Coroner. I supported Chad in the primary and believe he will commit to being a dependable deputy coroner in much the same way he would, had he won the primary.

Both Denny and Chad will give their best to the county as they serve together to help families in their times of need or to assist with tragedy that will occur no matter how much we wish it didn't. They are both Christian men who have compassion and empathy for all their neighbors and friends in Gallatin County.

My vote will be for Denny French for Coroner on November 4 and I hope you will join me when you cast your ballots.

Carol H. Estes Warsaw

Dear Editor:
I believe, without hesitation, that my father, Denny French, is the most qualified person for the position of Gallatin County Coroner. He is the only candidate with experience and he has the integrity and character to treat the coroner's position with the respect it deserves.

Growing up as a preacher's kid in Gallatin County, my family often attended funerals and assisted families who were grieving the loss of a loved one. For as long as I can remember, my dad has been a pillar of strength to many in our community during one of the most difficult times in life. He has served as pastor of Paint Lick Baptist Church for over 36 years and his experience comforting and counseling others through the grief process is immeasurable. I know he will continue to use the same compassion he has shown over the years to all residents of Gallatin County.

Not only does my dad have experience helping people cope with loss, he also has experience serving as Gallatin County Coroner for over five years. During this time, he successfully completed Eastern Kentucky University's Criminal Justice for Coroners program.

Denny French is one of the most steadfast, honorable men you will ever meet. He cares about Gallatin County and the people who live here. It has been said, "The true test of a man's character is what he does when no one is watching." Over the years, I've witnessed him giving selflessly to others, putting everyone else's needs before his own. I know he will continue to give of himself while serving in the coroner's position.

I appreciate your consideration of my father, Denny French, for Gallatin County Coroner.

Kaycee French Thompson Warsaw

Dear Editor:
I have known Grant Axon for a few years and he is a family man with character, high values and is community minded. He will work with law enforcement, courts, judges, the school system, parents, business leaders and community organizations to ensure justice is carried out. The prosecution of repeat offenders should be rough and tough.

Spike Wright is a personal friend of mine and I love him and his wife, Barbie. Spike was in my wedding, but when I was a deputy under Sheriff Nelson Brown, I was always telling Spike he was too soft on crime.

Vote for Grant Axon as Gallatin's next county attorney on November 4.

Bill Menefee Burlington

Dear Editor:
I have a grandson awaiting sentencing through our court. The arresting officer told him he was already a felon, he just hadn't been convicted yet. His court appointed attorney did try, but everything he proposed was refused. Grant Axon helped as much as he could, pro bono. He sat with us and explained what was happening. If you have ever been in courtroom B you know you can hear very little of what is going on.

Joe Scudder Warsaw

Dear Editor:
I am supporting Grant Axon for our next county attorney. If we care about the future of Gallatin County and our kids and grandkids, then we need to see change.

I have met and talked with Grant Axon. His heart is in seeing change in our county.

We need to look at what the candidate wants to help change in our county. It is time to vote for the candidate, not the affiliation.

Please pray about your choice and do what is right for the kids of Gallatin County. Be a part of the solution, not the problem. Vote for Grant Axon and give him an opportunity to prove that he is willing to help us make our county better.

Martha Sebring Warsaw

Dear Editor:

Over the past year, I have come to know Grant Axon as a legal advisor, and subsequently, as a friend. Initially, I was taken by his professionalism and knowledge. Upon getting to know Mr. Axon and his family, I have been moved most by his kind nature, his forthright honesty, his sincerity in his mission and the desire to do what's ethically and legally right.

Mr. Axon also has a passion for this county and its citizens. Since choosing this area as his home, he has taken an involved, pro-active approach. He volunteers at numerous school and local events, including the food pantry. He and his family have been involved in every festival, parade and charity events. He has a deep focus on family, but in his eyes, family extends beyond blood, and to those in the community and those in need.

In spite of Mr. Axon's kind heart, I know that his core belief is in the truth and justice. I know he will serve all citizens of Gallatin County in an unbiased and honest manner. That is the primary reason why I'll vote for Grant Axon for Gallatin County Attorney on November 4.

Shelley Simpson Warsaw

Dear Editor:

As a resident of this county for five years, I have educated myself on both candidates running for county attorney and the choice for me is clear. I will vote for Grant Axon.

As a mother of four children, we simply cannot back down from the high percentage of drug use in our county. We can't shelter our kids outside the walls of our home. We need someone to take a stand and protect them while they are growing up. We need a leader who will offer treatment to those with addictions and a leader who is willing to prosecute those who fail to follow through getting the help they need.

Between the years of 2008-2012, our county had the worst record of convictions for driving under the influence. Gallatin County had a success rate of 49% on convicting those who chose to get behind the wheel and risk their lives and the lives of others. Mr. Axon pledges that he will prosecute those willing to take the chance to get behind the wheel and risk the lives of others.

Vote Grant Axon for county attorney on Tuesday, November 4.

Melissa Phelps Warsaw

Dear Editor:

There are many important elections facing us this year. While there are no perfect candidates, we are fortunate to have some incumbents who have earned our vote: Ken McFarland, Josh Neale and Joe Shinkle, to name a few.

An important race in which I believe the incumbent has failed is the race for county attorney.

Grant Axon is a regular, hard-working guy. He grew up working hard, running equipment and driving trucks. He knows what it's like to be a regular working man. He has worked hard his entire life to become a lawyer. His hard work in this campaign should earn your vote. He has earned mine. Vote Grant Axon on November 4.

Jim Kinman Gallatin County

Dear Editor:

My late husband, John, and I had the honor of knowing Denny French for 23 plus years. Not only was Denny a friend, but he also connected us to a community we grew to love. Denny's compassion and loyalty to his family, his church, his friends and community are an inspiration.

Denny French has the experience, since he served in the past as coroner, and the empathy to perform this very sensitive and difficult position.

I am proud to have Denny French as my friend and I encourage you to vote for Denny French for coroner on election day.

Thank you is all I can say at this point.
Thank you Gallatin County for the support and well wishes.

Thank you for the positive responses I have accepted from so many on my views on focusing on the future and not the past.

Thank you for telling me that it is possible for us to work together. I promised to run a positive, issue based campaign, and I have.

The truth is all that matters. My opponent, four years ago promised many things.

No Nepotism. Regretfully, it was not true.

Not to raise Gallatin County payroll taxes. Another promise many of you and myself feel the effects of.

My opponent has campaigned on finances obtained from the Kentucky Speedway. As a voter, you should ask: What is the money being used for?

Being a councilman for the city of Warsaw, I have been told numerous times; all three Gallatin County cities would receive funds from this money. Once again, we have not been told the truth.

I am not afraid to tell you the truth and the facts. Ask me a question, and you will get a straight forward answer. In less than two weeks, you have a choice to make. Choose failed and repeated promises, or choose a person, like you, who respects the truth, admires the truth, and deserves the truth.

It's time to take this county in the direction it deserves. A direction of honesty and fairness for everyone.

In less than a week, Gallatin County has a choice to make. Focusing on what has been accomplished.

Or focusing on what ALL of us will accomplish together.

On November 4th, I am respectfully asking for your support and your vote to put an end to the same old, same old. I ask you to choose Honesty to lead us all into Gallatin County's future.

Dear Editor:

I ask you to join me in supporting Denny French as our next coroner. As the election for Gallatin County Coroner is approaching, please consider three things before you vote. They are experience, compassion and genuine concern. Denny French demonstrates these traits each and every day.

Having been appointed in the past as both coroner and deputy coroner by Judge Clarence Davis and Judge George Zubaty, Denny has served our county for over five years. He has done an exemplary job of fulfilling the duties. Denny has assisted families in the worst of times at the passing of loved ones, attended state training and served as grief counselor in our school system when our children and teachers needed him most.

His concern for the betterment of our county is unparalleled. These are traits I think a coroner must have. I know Denny best of all, yes, he is my brother!

I ask you to vote for Denny French for Gallatin County Coroner on Tuesday, November 4.

Kenny French

Dear Editor:

I strongly recommend Denny French for coroner. He has the character, integrity, compassion, experience and education to serve as Gallatin County Coroner. I have known Denny for more than 40 years and I can say that he has shown more goodwill toward other people than any single person I have known.

Denny's past experience as Gallatin County Coroner is invaluable. His experience as a pastor for over 30 years at Paint Lick Baptist Church, along with his faith, plays a vital role when duty calls. Often times, people vote party lines instead of voting for the candidate with the qualities, leadership and knowledge to perform the duties. Who will you vote for? Denny French is the best choice.

Whether 'tis true, I cannot say, but it seems President Obama stands accused by some of waging a "war on coal". Well, maybe it's about time someone did. Dear Editor:

Thirty years ago, when Election Day came to Gallatin County, the outpourings of voters to the polls were relatively few because the winners had already been chosen during the primaries. Now the times have changed and most positions will be decided in the first week of November, as it should be.

We are proud of the brave Republican candidates who have awakened the opposition and have caused this election to be more competitive and meaningful than ever.

Recent state and national elections have shown the people of Gallatin County would rather vote for a hard-working, conservative candidate. Why should local elections be any different? By electing local Republican leadership, we can insure that those same, hard-working, conservative values will be practiced in Gallatin County.

Remember, the Republicans are the party of Lincoln; the Democrats are the party of Obama. With which group would you rather be associated?

Dear Editor:

Marcia Thomas is running for Circuit Court in Boone and Gallatin Counties. I have worked with Marcia for over 15 years in her role as a prosecuting attorney.

She is a hard-worker, efficient, and reasonable.

Marcia has the experience needed to handle the rigors of Circuit Court. Marcia was overwhelmingly rated highly qualified by the Northern Kentucky Bar Association. Her opponent was rated as not qualified. It is important to be rated by your peers as they are the people who deal with the court system every day. I urge everyone in Gallatin and Boone Counties to join with me in supporting Marcia Thomas in her campaign for Circuit Judge.

Judge Michael P. Collins,

Dear Editor:

Thanks to Ken McFarland's leadership, our community now has a senior, crisis and community center, a fully functioning food pantry, a bus to get our senior citizens where they need to go, a county run high speed internet service, a 500 acre park where families can enjoy various outdoor activities, and new ambulances (just to name a few).

During his administration, he has trimmed frivolous expenses from the budget so more financial support can be directed to The Family Resource Center, the task force fighting drug abuse, updating and maintaining our police and fire department vehicles, and our youth sports programs. In addition, he took the hopes and dreams of some students and made them a reality by helping to bring a YMCA to our community soon.

I think McFarland has made Gallatin County a better place. You can tell when you drive around and see less garbage by the side of the road, due to the county-wide trash pick up service he initiated. You can tell when you see people filing in and out of the senior/community center or the green senior citizen bus taking people there. You can tell when citizens are receiving needed food from the food pantry. You can tell when you drive through Glencoe and see the new pavilion and the up and coming basketball court. You can see it when you drive past the 127/42 overlook. If he has accomplished this much in four years, imagine what he can do with four more years.

I hope you vote to keep Ken McFarland as our judge/executive on November 4.

Dear Editor:

I will be voting for Ken McFarland for Judge/executive on November 4 and I hope those of you reading this will consider doing the same. While I admire his overall commitment to the county, it has been his commitment to our citizens in need that has truly made a lasting impression on me.

The seniors in our community hold a special place in my heart and, upon moving back to the county a few years ago, I discussed this with Judge McFarland as I was looking for ways to help out. He encouraged me to put my energy to work at the Northern Kentucky Area Development District by serving as a volunteer on the Aging Council to represent our area. It wasn't long before I realized the NKADD makes important decisions monthly that greatly affect Gallatin County seniors. Having a judge who sees, understands and values the benefits of participation in these programs is essential to our county.

Late last year, I learned there were grant funds available to establish a permanent food pantry for the residents of Gallatin County. However, to receive these funds, we needed a permanent facility where we could host mobile food pantries until eventually converting into a regular service pantry for our community. Judge McFarland assured me we had his full support and he felt confident a space could be found. With his support and commitment, we now have a permanent location in the former senior citizens building. Judge McFarland also made a few modifications to assure anyone with disabilities could enter and exit the building safely.

Both of these programs have given me an opportunity to see a very compassionate side of Judge McFarland and his attitude and commitment have truly impressed me. I hope you will join me on Election Day as I vote for Ken McFarland because I believe he has the experience, knowledge and compassion that will continue to improve our community.

Dear Editor:

I am writing today to ask for your support for Sally Courtney Davis for magistrate on Election Day. I have been blessed to know many strong women in my life and Sally Davis is one of the strongest. Sally has a quiet strength about her that I have witnessed in her marriage, raising her fine children and caring for all of our children through her work at the schools.

I have also had the pleasure of being involved in business dealings with Sally. She has impressed me many, many times with her intelligence and keen business sense.

Sally Davis is strong and she will stand up for our needs. I have no doubt that she will work tirelessly for us in office because that is her character. She is loyal and will do what is right and fair for our community. She will do all these things without ever asking for a thank you or expecting a pat on the back. She'll do it because that is who she is and what she stands for.

Dear Editor:

The recent poll that put Alison Grimes ahead by two points was before her staff was recorded admitting that she is all for President Obama's plan to totally destroy our coal industry. Obama stated unequivocally that he wants to shut down all coal plants. He doesn't care if it's clean coal and it's keeping electricity prices low and Kentuckians warm. He wants them destroyed and all coal companies out of business. His word choice for his wish for them was "bankrupt".

Ms. Grimes wouldn't even answer when asked, "Did you vote for President Obama?" Her credibility is destroyed and should sink her like a rock. A vote for Grimes is a sure vote for more of the same from President Obama and Senate Majority Leader Harry Reid. There's a lot at stake, possibly including the Supreme Court, about which, no one seems to be talking. Voting is the only weapon in our citizen arsenal to make the changes in Washington that are so desperately needed at this time in our history. Do not stay home. Go vote!

Dear Editor:

After accepting a challenge from Judge McFarland and Sheriff Josh Neale to identify spots in the county that needed to be cleaned up, I have driven nearly every road in the county and targeted vacant homes with uncut grass and garbage lying around. I have also looked at occupied homes that are in disrepair.

The list continued to float as people would respond, clean up messes, then fall back to their old ways. Judge McFarland suggested that the county go ahead and clean up these properties and then the county would put a lien on the property. The county has some up front labor costs, however, these costs will be recouped when the homeowner or mortgage company sells the property.

This proved to be a brilliant move. At this time, 95% of the targeted properties have been cleaned up!

I tip my hat to Mike Satchwell and his guys for their outstanding work. Our goals for the last two months of 2014 and 2015 are to catch these properties early and contact the mortgage companies, so they know that they will be paying for these services.

My long term goal is to keep Gallatin County, my home, a beautiful and trash-free place to live.

- Josh, we would like to thank you for your leadership in this county and for busting the meth labs.
- Spike, Grant Axon says that this county used to be close to the top and now we are close to the bottom on collecting child support.
- Sue, we like the fact that you have a medical background and are not just one of the good ol' boys.

These are the reasons that Ed and Vanessa Wilson are showing our support by voting for Josh Neale, Grant Axon and Sue LeGrand.

Town Hall Meeting for Gallatin Co. Elections 2014, Monday, November 3, 2014, 6:30 p.m., Gallatin County Extension Office

This is for candidates in ALL offices and parties

All candidates invited to attend. This is the candidates' job interview for positions they're applying for in this year's election. We'll have a town hall-style forum with room for discussion and debate.

Citizens of Gallatin County deserve to have their questions answered and to hear the candidates express their views and ideas for moving our county forward. We, the citizens, ask all candidates to please attend. All citizens are welcome to come and get your questions answered.

Kids love Halloween! They get to dress up and get free candy! What a perfect holiday! Give your kids some precious Halloween memories that they'll have for life.

Trick or treating isn't what it used to be. It's not as safe to let kids walk the streets alone.

Send a responsible adult or older teenager with them. Have a pumpkin carving party for your children and their friends a couple nights before Halloween. They'll enjoy looking at their creations for a few days before they have to be thrown out.

Check your local grocery store or craft store for Halloween cookbooks full of tasty treats on a horror theme for both kids and adults.

Serve your kids a filling meal before trick or treating and they won't be tempted to eat any candy before they bring it home for you to check.

Anytime a child has an accident, it's tragic. The last thing that you want to happen is for your child to be hurt on a holiday, it would forever live in the minds of the child and the family.

There are many ways to keep your child safe at Halloween, when they are more prone to accidents and injuries.

The excitement of children and adults at this time of year sometimes makes them forget to be careful. Simple common sense can do a lot to stop any tragedies from happening.

• Help your child pick out or make a costume that will be safe. Make it fire proof; the eyeholes should be large enough for good peripheral vision.

• If you set jack-o-lanterns on your porch with candles in them, make sure that they are far enough out of the way so that kids' costumes won't accidentally be set on fire.

• Make sure that if your child is carrying a prop, such as a scythe, butcher knife or a pitchfork, that the tips are smooth and flexible enough to not cause injury if fallen on.

• Kids always want to help with the pumpkin carving. Small children shouldn't be allowed to use a sharp knife to cut the top or the face. There are many kits available that come with tiny saws that work better than knives and are safer, although they can cut you as well. It's best to let the kids clean out the pumpkin and draw a face on it, which you can carve for them.

• Treating your kids to a spooky Halloween dinner will make them less likely to eat the candy they collect before you have a chance to check it for them.

• Teaching your kids basic everyday safety such as not getting into cars or talking to strangers, watching both ways before crossing streets and crossing when the lights tell you to, will help make them safer when they are out Trick or Treating.

Make Halloween a fun, safe and happy time for your kids and they'll carry on the tradition that you taught them to their own families some day!
